2. Symposium on „International Cooperation in Education and TVET-Systems”

17.07.2018, Internationales Begegnungszentrum (IBZ), Emil-Figge-Straße 59

Programm:

08.15 Prof. Dr. John Miller (Fudan University, Shanghai, VR China)
„East-West Cultural Exchange in Higher Education: Ethics, Issues and Challenges in the new era of global interconnectedness“

“With the advent of globalization, academic traditions are changing. Increasing interconnectedness though transportation, electronic communication, and cross-border scholarly collaborations are changing the face of the academy. Students from both Eastern and Western schools now routinely engage in international work as part of their studies, and often continue the collaborations they forge into their post-graduate careers. New questions emerge with this endeavor. What are the ethics of exporting ideas and concepts from one culture to another? What unique issues and challenges arise for the international scholar? How will our sense of “competency” develop in this intercultural educational environment?”

09.45 Pause

10.15 Frau Joanna Dolinska (University of Warsaw, Poland)
„Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) in Myanmar“

11.00 Frau Wu Danling (Shanghai, VR China)
